Description

A 19th century mahogany occasional table of elegant proportions, raised on a turned pedestal support terminating in a well-shaped tripod base with carved paw feet. The circular solid mahogany top displays attractive figuring and is finished with a crisply carved gadrooned edge, adding decorative interest and a touch of classical refinement. The turned central column is well balanced by the sturdy tripod base, giving the piece both stability and pleasing proportion. A versatile table ideal as a lamp table, wine table or occasional side table, working equally well in both traditional and contemporary interiors. Presented in good antique condition with age-related surface wear consistent with use and period. Circa 1840–1860
