Description

A Striking Pair of Antique Victorian Sterling Silver Salt Cellars with richly modelled, sculptural decoration. Each piece is formed with a deep central salt well set into a broad, heavily ornamented surround. The design features Renaissance Revival style masks, scrollwork, and foliate bands in high relief. Three projecting supports with detailed mask terminals and curled feet give each salt a dramatic, architectural stance. Hallmarked for London, 1870. * A satisfying collector's pair for anyone drawn to ornate, historicist silverwork. Measurements: Height: 1 1/2" (approx. 4cm) Diameter: 3" (approx. 7.5cm) Silver weight: 199g In good condition – Both pieces present very well with only light surface marks consistent with age.
