Description

French draw leaf provincial fruitwood farmhouse table. It features a classic draw-leaf mechanism, allowing two extension leaves to slide out from beneath the main top, significantly increasing its surface area for entertaining. There are visible old wood worm tracks (treated) and various timber patches/repairs, particularly around the breadboard ends and leaf joins. The table is structurally sound, though the extensions show some natural gapping and unevenness typical of early draw-leaf mechanisms. Overall a charming table. Height 80cm x Width 163cm x Depth 89cm. Width at full extension 324cm / Height to apron 60cm
