Description

An exceptionally good value 18th century mahogany bureau bookcase in very good condition and made from nicely faded mahogany. Even the drawer lining is made from a great cut of oak with lots of lovely medullary rays. These bureaux are very useful for working from home now that we are using laptops rather than desktops. According to some sources, a bureau in the drawing room is going to be the next must have home accessory! 103cm wide 58cm deep 206½cm high
