Description

A super striking and original early Victorian period chaise longue. Circa 1840. The original fabric or 'ticking' on this chaise is quite astonishing and incredibly rare to still be so vibrant and complete, once acting as a calico or underlay and now stealing all the limelight. The horsehair integral upholstery and 'squab' cushions on this chaise are completely original, along with the solid birch frame and webbing. Beautiful turned mahogany show wood with original brass cups and castors. small areas with imperfections to be expected. If you love this fabric as much as we do and would like to use it on an upcoming project then get in touch as we have faithfully re-produced it ready for future projects.
