Description

A superb, true matching pair of English antique brass candlesticks dating from the early 19th century (circa 1800–1820). This elegant pair features classic baluster columns with prominent decorative knobs, sitting atop beautifully proportioned, stepped circular bases. Both internal push-ejector rod mechanisms remain fully intact and operational, sliding up smoothly to effortlessly eject candle stubs from the sockets. Standing at a versatile 17cm tall, these candlesticks are perfect as functional dining table centrepieces or classic decorative accents. They have been cleaned and hand-polished to a beautiful, bright gold finish and remain in excellent antique condition, free of major dents or column distortion, only expected wear through use.
