Description

A fine set of six George III sterling silver teaspoons, each with attractive bright-cut decoration to the handle and terminal. All six spoons are fully hallmarked for London, 1795, with maker's mark for George Burrows I. The decoration is crisp and well preserved, with elegant foliate and geometric bright-cut engraving typical of late 18th-century English silver. A very pleasing and usable set of Georgian teaspoons, ideal for tea, coffee, desserts, or display with period porcelain. The spoons are in excellent antique condition, with light age-related surface wear only. Maker: George Burrows I Date: 1795 Assay Office: London Period: George III Material: Sterling silver Length: 12.5 cm Total weight: 59.96 g Condition: Excellent antique condition. Crisp engraving and good hallmarks.
