Description

A very good condition early 18th century walnut bureau bookcase with mirror doors, pull out candle stands and unusual interior with waterfall drawers. This piece is for sale for less than a quarter of the price that the vendor paid for it in the 1990s. It was fully restored when they bought it from a long established dealer and it has been very well looked after ever since. The mirror glass and some veneer has been replaced as is often the case with three hundred year old walnut furniture and the restoration has been carried out to a very high standard as one would expect knowing the 90s purchase price. This is a true statement piece which should compliment and perhaps even improve any interior whether stately home or town house.
