Description

This antique 20th-century Edwardian writing table in oak is a beautifully crafted piece of fine quality, showcasing elegant period styling and exceptional workmanship throughout. Very well made and sturdy in construction, the table stands on elegant turned legs fitted with casters, combining practicality with timeless Edwardian charm. The piece features two drawers to the front, both retaining their original brass handles, providing useful storage while adding authenticity and character. The top is finished with a beautiful red leather writing surface, perfectly complementing the warmth and richness of the oak. The oak displays gorgeous natural grain and warm colour throughout, further enhancing the beauty and appeal of this highly desirable example. Presented in good condition, this attractive writing table would make a perfect addition to any home, study, office, or period interior. A truly charming piece that has to be seen in person to be fully appreciated.
