Description

Late George III / Regency Inlaid Mahogany Caddy Top Chest of Drawers, c.1800–1820 A very attractive late George III / Regency mahogany chest of drawers, dating to around c.1800–1820. The chest is of straight-fronted form, with a caddy top, ebony stringing and a well-balanced arrangement of two short over three long graduated drawers. It is raised on elegant splayed bracket feet, the front feet giving the piece a particularly pleasing Regency stance. The chest is constructed with a pine carcass and mahogany veneers, with good figuring to the drawer fronts and a lovely even colour throughout. The ebony stringing gives a crisp decorative detail without making the piece overly formal, while the original polish and well-developed patina give it the warm, mellow appearance expected of a genuine period chest. The brass ring handles are later replacements, in period style, and sit well with the overall character of the piece. A handsome and very usable Regency chest, of good proportions and with a refined but understated appearance. Its relatively compact depth makes it practical for bedrooms, landings, dressing rooms or reception spaces, while the colour and patina give it stro...
