Description

A very elegant Regency period mahogany bergère library armchair of generous proportions, raised on finely turned brass cup castors. The chair features a beautifully shaped frame with sweeping arms and a high gently curved back, all inset with finely woven cane work to the sides, back and seat. The mahogany has a rich warm colour and attractive figuring throughout, complemented by restrained turned supports to the arms and refined detailing. The flowing silhouette and clean lines are very much in keeping with the sophisticated Regency taste of the early 19th century. The chair retains its loose upholstered cushions in a pale striped fabric. Whilst not newly upholstered, the fabric remains perfectly serviceable and presents well for everyday use. Equally attractive shown with or without the cushions, the chair reveals the full cane seat beneath. Dimensions Height: 40 inches – 102cm Height to seat: 17 inches – 43cm Width: 24.5 inches – 62cm Depth: 30.5 inches – 77cm
