Description

A good quality oak 8 day longcase clock by George Hallifax of Doncaster, circa 1770. The case constructed of quarter sawn oak, having a break arched hood with a central turned wooden finial. The glazed door with attached turned columns terminating with wooden capitals and matching quarter turned columns to the rear of the hood. The long trunk door with a shaped top and the original escutcheon and steel lock. The box base surmounted on a moulded plinth. The arched brass dial with a finely matted and engraved centre, the engraved silvered brass Roman chapter ring with Arabic five minute markers, surrounded by finely cast brass spandrels. The dial arch with a silvered convex boss signed Geo Hallifax Doncaster with an engraved sun motif above, flanked by cast brass dolphin spandrels. Silvered engraved calendar ring, with the aperture above the number al VI. The fine quality fully restored movement of eight day duration united by four knopped pillars, with anchor escapement and striking the hours on a single bell. The original lead weights and convex brass faced bob pendulum. The original finely wrought and fretted blued steel hands. A beautiful quality clock in excellent ori...
