Description

A quality antique mahogany side table by the noted Kelso cabinet maker J A Mein. Crafted from solid mahogany, the table displays the elegant proportions and restrained design typical of mid 19th century British furniture. It would work well as a side table, serving table, or statement piece in a hallway or living room. The rich mahogany grain and classic form make this a timeless and practical antique that fits comfortably within both traditional and modern interiors. Approximate dimensions H: 74 x W: 96 x D: 55 cm Circa 1850. This is a genuine antique piece so will show signs of age and use consistent with its history.
