Description

This antique 20th-century Jacobean style bureau in oak is a beautifully crafted piece, showcasing excellent quality and traditional period-inspired design throughout. Very well made and of good quality, the bureau features a nicely fitted interior to the upper section, offering a practical arrangement of compartments and storage spaces ideal for writing and organisation. Below are two drawers, both retaining their original handles and fittings, adding authenticity and character to the piece. The bureau is raised on elegant barley twist legs with supportive stretchers, reflecting the classic styling associated with Jacobean furniture while providing both strength and decorative appeal. Beautifully decorated throughout, the oak displays gorgeous natural grain and rich warm colour, further enhancing the charm and timeless appeal of this highly desirable example. Presented in good condition, this attractive bureau would make a perfect addition to any home, study, or period interior.
