Description

Edwardian Oak Octagonal Poker Table Antique Games Card Table 8 Player. An Exceptionally Rare Edwardian Solid Oak Octagonal Games Table, circa 1910. This is an incredibly scarce and beautifully designed Edwardian solid Oak octagonal games and poker table, representing the height of early twentieth-century leisure furniture. Crafted to a very high standard, this table is a magnificent standalone piece that comfortably accommodates up to eight players for cards, chess, or board games. The table features a striking octagonal top crafted from solid Oak, showcasing a deep nut-brown colour. The solid Oak timber on the top surfaces possesses a wonderful depth of honest historic patina, showing clear evidence that it has been used and enjoyed a fair amount over the last century, which adds immense character to the piece. The playing surface has been recently replaced with a premium green baize cloth, ensuring it is very clean with virtually no marks or signs of use. This vibrant, fresh baize is neatly bordered and held securely by individual brass stud studs. Highlighting the traditional construction of the piece, the eight integrated counter or card dishes at each player's station...
