Description

This is a pair of antique country house captain's chairs. An English, beech and elm smoker's bow or elbow seat, dating to the late Victorian period, circa 1900. Superb country house appeal with the classic bow form. Displaying a desirable aged patina and in good original order. Select beech and elm stocks show excellent grain interest throughout. Each graced with appealing caramel hues to the delightful form. The upper rails crowned with a prominent arched and bowed back rest. Baluster turned spindles rise obliquely supporting the striking horseshoe armrest. Each arm terminates in out-turned scrolled hand grips. Comfortable saddle squabs nicely sculpted with defined leg scallops. Standing upon a quartet of stout baluster legs united by double 'H' stretchers. This is a wonderful pair of antique country house captain's chairs, with appealing colour and fine English craftsmanship. Solid joints and construction, delivered ready for the home.
