Description

19th century Rio rosewood canterbury by Royal Cabinet Makers Holland & Son. A four division music canterbury with integrated carrying handle. The rosewood uprights that support the divisions are made in the solid as are the ring turned columns that decorate the sides. The top rails are solid but shaped with corner finials that are supported on larger scaled ring turned columns. The canterbury is highly figured throughout with Rio rosewood with a full length mahogany lined drawer. The makers impress mark is visible on the top inside of the drawer. The music canterbury is free standing and is raised on elegant tapered legs that sit into gilt brass caps and castors. This is the Rolls Royce of canterburies!
