Description

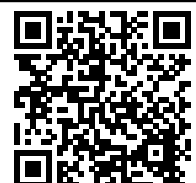

Private Collection just acquired. This beautiful prayer-rug, made circa 1880 by Timuri Yaqoub Khani tribes, is as finely knotted as they come! It has been hanging on a wall for many years and has survived in near-mint condition with complete 'elems' or skirts at each end. The central field and hand-panels are knotted in natural, undyed camel-hair and comprises an intricately-drawn 'tree-of-life' in the centre. All the colours are good from vegetable-dyes. An amazing rug and certainly best of type. Size: 1.50 x 0.79m (4' 11" x 2' 7").
