Description

Add a touch of warmth, history, and rustic charm to your home with this exceptional antique oak settle bench. Circa 1910, this bench shows the classic elements of the Arts & Crafts movement, this piece beautifully balances decorative artistry with practical everyday function. The lower front apron is adorned with three distinct, finely detailed wood-inlay scenes depicting traditional Dutch-style figures in folk attire (including wooden clogs and bonnets). One charming vignette shows a figure playing a pipe instrument to a listening child. Whimsical Cutouts: Each side panel includes an integrated heart-shaped cutout handle, adding a sweet, folky character to the sturdy design. Hidden Storage Capability: The solid wood seat opens on a rear hinge to reveal a spacious deep trunk compartment perfect for tucking away blankets, shoes, toys, or entryway clutter. Classic Silhouette: Features a gently contoured, wave-topped backrest and distinctively scalloped, cutout feet that elevate the piece while maintaining its robust stance. Condition: This piece is in good antique condition, exhibiting a rich, warm patina. There are light, authentic surface marks and age-related wear ...
