Description

Rare late 18th early 19th Century Italian wooden panels. The panel on the left is in 9 individual sections and the panel on the right is in 7 individual sections, wonderful original paint in the most perfect colour tones. If needed you could take one panel off each one to reduce the sizes without it detracting from the shape. One panel is 110 inches wide complete as shown and the other panel is 123 inches wide as shown in the pictures. Both panels are 71 inches high. Priced individually at £4,450 per complete panel. They could of come from a carousel although I personally feel they are more likely to be from a procession in Italy. A one of a kind find. You can scan all over any picture on the website with your cursor to magnify the area. Height: 71 inches (180 cm)
