Description

An elegant antique Edwardian mahogany inlaid display cabinet of slender proportions. To the top is a shaped cornice with decorative inlaid detail below. The cabinet features a central bow fronted glazed door opening to reveal fitted shelves, flanked either side by glazed side panels with attractive astragal glazing bars. Below the central glazed section is a beautifully inlaid panel with further delicate inlaid decoration throughout. The cabinet is raised on square tapering legs terminating in spade feet. The interior is lined in pale green fabric. A particularly decorative example with a refined elegant appearance. Item Reference: M-6829 . Dimensions: Height – 179cm / Width – 114.5cm / Depth – 48cm . CONDITION REPORT: In good antique condition throughout with some signs of age. There is surface wear in places including age-related marks and scratches to the frame and legs. There is some fading and wear to the fabric-lined interior commensurate with age. Evidence of historic woodworm to the back right side which has long since gone and has been treated as a precautionary measure. Overall, a lovely example. Our experienced carpenter meticulously inspects, repairs, and re...
