Description

A North country 17th century oak wainscot armchair of truly excellent colour and with period carved initials. With arms like glass and excellent nutty colour throughout, and some very old repairs commensurate with age and delightfully honest wear. Inventory initials of "WS" to back and very old graffiti, probably 17th century, of initials carved into one arm which appear to read :TW + I.. but the second set of initials are more difficult to decipher. One very old letter 'S' carved into seat. Measuring: Height to back - 104 cm, height to seat 42 cm and width across arms 57 cm English, North country, second half 17th century
