Description

An exceptional large scale breakfront serving table. The carved upright mouldings to the gallery are decorated with stretched 'Grecian' scrolls, up-turned carved shells above fielded moulded and gadrooned panels, flanked by upright reeded capitals. The breakfront top with shaped sides is made with a single well figured veneer with a moulded thumbnail edge above a highly figured inverted breakfront frieze, with a central tablet that conceals a split centre mahogany lined drawer, making two middle frieze drawers. The middle section is decorated with a gadrooned moulding above the legs. The six legs have been carved in the solid and are impressively crisp with leaf decoration and fine ring-turned and tapered reeded legs that terminate on 'egg & dart' moulded toes.
