Description

A lovely antique slider bracelet with a silver paste-set adornment. It's quite unusual to find silver and paste versions, like this one, we more often see gold slider bracelets with pearl-set initials. The slider is mounted on a black grosgrain ribbon with an adjustable clasp. SIZE: The paste slider is 2 x 2cm. The maximum circumference of the ribbon with the clasp open is seven and a half inches (around 19cm), with the clasp firmly closed it's just over six inches (almost 16cm). The bracelet can be worn with the clasp open as the part which sticks out stops it from falling open but obviously it's more secure with the clasp closed. WEIGHT: 5.4g. MATERIALS: Silver, paste gemstones, ribbon. HALLMARKS/STAMPS: The clip is marked SS, LION CLIP and P&SS. CONDITION: The piece is in good antique condition; there is some glue visible around the central paste, which may have been replaced but is still a nice old single cut, well matched with the rest. ERA: Estimated Edwardian (c.1901-1914).
