Description

A fine and decorative watercolour painted heraldic device. The piece is beautifully worked with a central shield, unusually surrounded by floral swags and highlighted with gold. Painted on paper the device is in superb condition with strong bright colours. The work is framed in a period gilt frame that is most likely the original. The frame is in good antique condition with the odd minor knock. A lovely example of a heraldic device, probably representing a marriage and unusual in that the motto is vacant. C.1850. Overall sizes in inches including frame: 11 by 13
