Description

A superb piece of folk art, the painting shows a young child in landscape setting with their dog by their side. The work is typical of folk art or naïve painting of the period with the child standing centrally facing the viewer. There are some lovely bits of detail, the cottage in the background and the slightly strange looking dog. The work has been lined at some point and some minor very good restoration made. The portrait is mounted in a modern but very period looking frame. The whole has a wonderful presence and is ready to hang. C.1830. Overall sizes in inches including frame: 28 ½ by 33 ½
