Description

Georgian function & elegance! A lovely George III mahogany wall mounted corner cabinet with panelled doors opening to an interior with shaped shelves. The mahogany has developed a rich patina from years of use which has been further enhanced by later sign written detailing. The cabinet now bears the title Whitehall 1212 to the cornice and roman numerals to the door panels. These features are reference to the radio crime drama programme Whitehall 1212 which was broadcast in the 1950s. A lovely looking & useful piece of furniture for the home or vintage office providing a practical attractive storage solution, who doesn't have a corner? (Lighthouse keepers please ignore that last comment). Please see our other listings for more antique, retro and vintage furniture. This piece has been later hand sign written. Cabinet width without plinths- 103cm.
