Description

Vintage Long Pearl Necklace with Diamond Clasp in 18ct White Gold. A timeless and wonderfully versatile vintage pearl necklace dating to the 1950s, featuring a single strand of beautifully matched cultured pearls that may be worn as a graceful long strand or doubled to create a classic two-row necklace. Each pearl has been individually hand knotted and recently restrung in June 2026, ensuring both security and longevity. The pearls display a beautiful ivory-silver body colour with a rich, even lustre and are exceptionally well matched throughout the strand. This necklace boasts an exquisite 18ct white gold diamond clasp. Designed in an elegant stylised kite-shaped frame, it is centred by a cluster of seven old cut diamonds and further embellished with old cut and eight-cut diamonds throughout. Delicate millegrain edging enhances the sparkle and craftsmanship, creating a clasp attractive enough to be worn at the front, side or back of the necklace. Whether worn as a long single strand for understated sophistication or doubled for a more formal look, this necklace remains effortlessly elegant and endlessly wearable.
