Description

K0662 Fine quality Jas Shoolbred figured and solid walnut coat stand, having five original double hooks in brass on revolving top adorned with a finial, raised on three fluted supports with further three hooks and a finial terminating in a fluted circular base, all standing on shaped legs. The base is fitted with an original lead ring for the stability and the coat stand is also design to lean back for a counter balance. Stamp with Jas Shoolbred 8242. This antique coat stand has been sympathetically restored, it retains its original finish which has been cleaned, revived and waxed, original deep colour and good patina. Showing some age commensurate marks. This fine quality hall stand would sit perfectly in a corner, it would add style to an antique or modern interior. Truly timeless design. c1900 H79" W25 1/4" D22 3/4" H200cm W64cm D58cm The swivelling top and the finial can be removed for the transportation, H179cm. In the 1820's James Shoolbred started his company in London. James Shoolbred & Co sold textiles, carpets and other items for interior decorating. In the 1870's the company was designing and producing original, high-quality furniture, inspired by the aesthetic...
