Description

an antique mahogany chest of drawers with a warm limed finish, original brass handles and bracket feet. The front is arranged with two short upper drawers above three long drawers, each framed by simple moulded edges and fitted with decorative pierced brass backplates, drop handles and matching escutcheons. The lighter surface brings out the grain and wear in the timber, giving the chest a softer, more relaxed appearance than a darker polished example. The drawers are constructed with pale timber linings and visible dovetail joints, offering practical storage for clothing, linens or household pieces. A moulded top, straight sides and shaped bracket feet give the piece a restrained antique profile, while the brass fittings add a more decorative note across the façade. Its compact proportions make it well suited to bedroom storage, a hallway, landing or sitting room, where it can sit comfortably with country house furniture, textiles, ceramics and a layered mix of antique and 20th-century design.
