Description

A fine Victorian mahogany wine cooler of elegant cylindrical form, raised on cabriole legs terminating in bold ball and claw feet — a hallmark of 19th-century design. The richly figured mahogany body lifts to reveal its original copper liner, ideal for keeping wine or bottles cool as intended. A small curved drawer is neatly set into the lower section, adding both charm and practicality. The timber has developed a warm, glowing patina, and the whole piece balances decorative appeal with its original function. A distinctive and beautifully crafted wine cooler, perfect as a statement accent in a dining room or drawing room, and equally attractive used as a planter. Internal reference : SAI4214
