Description

Large George III Mahogany Tilt-Top Dining or Breakfast Table, c.1780–1800 A large and well-proportioned George III period mahogany tilt-top dining or breakfast table, dating to the late 18th century, circa 1780–1800. The oblong top is formed from well-figured solid mahogany boards and finished with a finely worked thumb-moulded edge, displaying a pleasing colour and mature patina developed over more than two centuries. The top is fitted with a traditional Georgian tilt mechanism with brass locking catch, allowing the table to be stored upright when not in use. The table stands on a ring-turned pedestal above a well-drawn base of four reeded and gently swept legs, each terminating in original brass lion's paw caps and castors. A handsome and practical Georgian table of confident proportions, typical of good quality late 18th century English cabinetmaking. The generous size comfortably accommodates six people and works equally well as a dining or breakfast table. Dimensions: Height: 72 cm (28 1/2") Width: 144 cm (56 3/4") Depth: 101 cm (39 3/4") Condition: Very good antique condition, commensurate with age. Structurally sound and sturdy with no loose joints. The table r...
