Description

A fine quality antique Victorian mahogany three-piece salon suite dating from circa 1880, comprising an elegant shaped settee and a pair of matching armchairs. Beautifully crafted from richly figured mahogany, this impressive suite displays the refined proportions and craftsmanship that made Victorian drawing room furniture so highly desirable. Each piece features attractive oval backs adorned with carved ribbon cresting, elegant flowing arms, and graceful cabriole legs terminating in original castors. The suite retains its beautifully shaped frames and is upholstered throughout in luxurious deep-buttoned damask fabric, providing exceptional comfort whilst enhancing its period character. The combination of rich mahogany, elegant lines, and sumptuous upholstery creates a striking statement suitable for both traditional and contemporary interiors.
