Description

A handsome pair of mahogany Regency armchairs, beautifully crafted and full of the refined elegance characteristic of early 19th-century design. The frames are shaped with graceful scrolling arms, a gently curved back, and a central decorative splat—details that give the chairs a light, architectural presence while remaining comfortably proportioned. The wood has a rich, polished tone that highlights the quality of the carving and the crispness of the lines. Each chair is upholstered in a striped fabric that complements the period style, adding a touch of colour without overwhelming the classical form. Sturdy, decorative, and highly versatile, this pair works beautifully in a drawing room, study, hallway, or as statement occasional chairs in a contemporary interior. A lovely example of Regency craftsmanship with timeless appeal. Delivery can be arranged, please contact me for further details
