Description

Antique 20th century Edwardian set of six oak dining chairs, very well made and of fine quality. Comprising six single chairs, this attractive set showcases the quality craftsmanship and elegant styling associated with the Edwardian period. Each chair features a removable drop-in seat upholstered in a striking mustard yellow material, possibly leather, providing both comfort and practicality. Standing on turned legs united by supporting stretchers, the chairs are of solid construction and display excellent proportions throughout. Boasting gorgeous oak grain and rich colour, this highly desirable set combines durability with timeless character. The warm tones of the oak complement the mustard yellow upholstery beautifully, creating an eye-catching and inviting appearance. Presented in good condition, with solid frames and no movement, these well-made dining chairs would make a wonderful addition to any dining room and are a perfect addition to any home.
