Description

Elegant late Art Deco-era Chinese export earrings featuring green jade discs set in 14 $\frac{1}{2}$ carat gold. Each earring displays a finely crafted gold character – believed to be 寿 (longevity) and 福 (good fortune) – symbolising enduring happiness and prosperity. • Condition: Very good vintage condition, with later conversion to secure post fittings. Under certain lights there is a fine line down the centre of one "donut"; it appears to be an internal inclusion, the surface is completely flush and smooth. • Fixing: Posts and nine-carat gold butterfly scrolls. • Hallmarks: The backs are stamped 14K and bear a Chinese maker's stamp. The butterflies are marked 9CT. • Era: Estimated 1920s-1950. • Size: 1.7cm diameter. • Weight: 4.9g.
