Description

A traditional Japanese wooden hibachi, carved from a single section of timber and fitted with its original metal liner and trivet. The exterior retains a wonderfully natural, organic form with visible knots and grain, while the oval metal insert shows the soft wear and patination expected from use with charcoal. The separate three-legged stand supports the liner when in use. A simple, tactile piece of Japanese domestic design — ideal as a decorative object, planter, or as a sculptural accent in a contemporary interior. Internal reference : SAI4208
