Description

Florence Adelina Hess (1891–1974) A wonderful British Impressionist oil on panel by Florence Adelina Hess, a notable figure associated with the celebrated Staithes Group and Fylingdales Group of artists. Depicting an Angler and Bridge, the painting beautifully captures a fisherman wading into a Yorkshire river, set against the backdrop of a stone arched bridge and rolling hills. Hess was the most prominent pupil and studio assistant to the Yorkshire painter Mark Senior. This piece perfectly reflects Senior's influence on her technique. Works by Hess with this particular provenance are highly sought after by collectors of the Northern Impressionist school. The back of the panel offers a window into the painting's history, boasting fantastic provenance: The Bradford Exhibition Label: Features the official, vintage paper label from the City of Bradford Corporation Art Gallery, Cartwright Memorial Hall, clearly marked as Loan/Exhibition No. 37. The Artist's Studio Label: Includes a highly charming, partially remaining secondary label handwritten with the title "Sketch", highlighting the piece's origins as a fresh, immediate en-plein-air study.
