Description

*Anglo-Indian Carved Hardwood Occasional Table* A fine example of Anglo-Indian decorative furniture, this antique occasional table showcases exceptional hand-carved craftsmanship and intricate detailing. Constructed from richly toned hardwood, the table features a square top with an elaborately carved border, central decorative panel, and a finely worked lower shelf. The slender turned legs are beautifully carved with traditional motifs, combining European furniture forms with Indian ornamental influences — a hallmark of Anglo-Indian craftsmanship from the 19th century. The deep, dark patina highlights the age, character, and artistry of the piece. A striking statement table, ideal as a side table, lamp table, or collector's piece, bringing historical charm and exotic elegance to a period or contemporary interior.
