Description

A superb Victorian mahogany pharmacy mirror, dating to circa 1890 and bearing the original "Dispensing Department" panel to the top. Manufactured by the respected makers Phillip Joseph & Sons Ltd, this impressive piece would have originally formed part of a traditional chemist or pharmacy interior. Featuring a substantial mahogany frame with a deep moulded cornice and plinth base, the mirror retains its period character and commercial heritage. The original mirror plate displays age-related foxing and wear consistent with its age, adding to its authentic Victorian charm. An exceptional decorative and historical piece, ideal for use in a period interior, retail display, barbershop, restaurant, or as a striking statement mirror within the home. Circa: 1890 Maker: Phillip Joseph & Sons Ltd Material: Mahogany, glass mirror Dimensions: * Height: 188 cm * Width: 86 cm * Depth: 3 cm Condition is commensurate with age and use, with wear, marks, and foxing to the mirror plate as expected from a genuine Victorian example. Please study the photographs carefully as they form part of the description. A rare and highly decorative piece of Victorian pharmacy history.
