

SA1220422

Antique Victorian Copper Jelly Mould Tin Lined Kitchenalia Baking Collectable

Price

GBP 125

| USD $169 | EUR 146

Item Reference: SA1220422

Date of manufacture: Victorian

Description

Antique Victorian copper jelly mould, a classic piece of 19th century kitchenware combining function with decorative appeal. Made from solid copper with a warm aged patina, this mould features elegant shaping typical of the Victorian period and would have been used for setting jellies, desserts or savoury dishes. Today it makes an attractive display item in a country kitchen, pantry or as part of an antique cookware collection. The copper shows a characterful finish consistent with age, adding to its authenticity and charm. Dimensions Height 7 cm Diameter 18 cm A decorative and practical collectible, ideal for antique enthusiasts or traditional kitchen styling.

Seller Details

Heavenly Antiques

The Cow Shed Collective Crowmarsh Hill Wallingford Oxfordshire
OX10 8BG United Kingdom

Tel: 01491 905679

International Tel: +44 1491 905679

