Description

A finely crafted 20th century bone (attributed) dice shaker, accompanied by a complete set of six miniature dice. The shaker features a sliding lid, and is decorated with a hand-painted playing card motif depicting court figures, adding a distinctive decorative element to this charming gaming accessory. A delightful example of an antique gaming object, combining practical function with decorative appeal. Such pieces were often made as personal gaming accessories and novelty items, prized today for their craftsmanship, tactile quality, and historic charm. Material: carved bone (not tested/authenticated)
