Description

Antique, art nouveau, solid pewter sugar basin or porringer bowl with small, sea-green cabochons and twin handles by Liberty & Co. C. 1902 Condition: Excellent antique condition. All the cabochons are secure. It is clean and has been left unpolished, except for the underside of the base, which has been cleaned properly to make the punch mark easier to see. Impressed to the underside: TUDRIC (although the 'R' looks to have been overpunched with a circle or the letter 'O'). Please see close-up photo. 03 (one of the first numbers) "Tudric" is the tradename for pewterware made for Liberty & Co, London. Liberty launched it's Tudric pewter range in 1902. Please see the first/an early Liberty catalogue: pewtersociety.org "Notes on Liberty Tudric Art Nouveau Pewter". See the sugar basin / porringer (without cabochons) on page 7 of the PDF, no 1 (page 63 of the catalogue itself). Measurements: Diameter of bowl: 16cm Diameter of foot: 8.75 Height (excluding handles): 6.25cm Height to top of handles: 9.5cm Weight: 426g
