Description

This is a highly decorative antique polychrome porcelain fountain basin, with an arched backplate. The decoration features bird motifs, specifically birds of paradise. It also features a small brass tap (or faucet) and a semi-circular basin with a moulded front edge. Designed to be wall mounted, this item would look amazing in a conservatory, orangery or cloakroom. Makers stamps identify TC Brown-Westhead Moore – By Royal Appointment to Her Majesty (Queen Victoria) The Cauldron Pottery Works, Stoke on Trent, England. This company was in practice between 1891 – 1904. Minor signs of wear commensurate with the age of this piece. Please study the photographs. Measurements: H 163cm W 106cm D 59cm
