Description

An attractive Victorian papier-mâché basket dating from the mid-19th century, of rectangular form with shaped rim and ornate gilt metal swing handle. Decorated throughout with finely hand-painted birds, flowers, and foliage on a black lacquered ground, with additional floral sprays to the interior sides. A charming decorative piece representative of the popularity of papier-mâché wares during the Victorian period. The basket retains its original painted decoration and decorative metalwork, making it an appealing display item for collectors of Victorian decorative arts. Dimensions: Width: 27 cm Depth: 21 cm Height: 5 cm (excluding handle) Condition: Age-related wear throughout, including rubbing and craquelure to the lacquered surface, wear to the painted decoration, and tarnishing to the metal handle. Remains structurally sound and displays well.
