

SA1221051

Rare Cast-iron Garden Table c1840 "The Rotherham", Four Cast-iron Chairs

Price

GBP 1,650

| USD $2,233 | EUR 1,931

Item Reference: SA1221051Date of manufacture: 19th Century

Dimensions

Height = 76.5 cm (30.1")

Width = 60 cm (23.6")

Description

Free UK Mainland Delivery This is a rare mid-nineteenth Century cast-iron garden table. Shot blasted base with new black paint and now with stylish copper top. Together with a heavy set of four cast-iron chairs. The ornate base is fully marked with Kite marks and stamped "The Rotherham" (see photographs). This table is of a rare design (find another, we have only seen four) and manufactured by Yates & Co, Rotherham Circa 1840. This set is really one for the connoisseurs, probably no others on the market today. Delivery available. If you want to be different, don't miss this one! Dimensions: H: 76.5cm (30.1")Di: 60cm (23.6") The Following from Grace's Guide to British Industrial History; James Yates 1799 Born in Kimberworth, Yorks. 1823 James Yates, of Carr House and Oakwood House, took over what was left of the Walker's Foundry at Rotherham and went into partnership with Charles Samuel Roberts Sandford of Northfield House, at the Phoenix Works Married Betsey 1833 The partners took over the Rotherham Foundry. 1838 The partnership was dissolved; Yates took the Rotherham Foundry which specialised in stove grate work. He also acquired the premises of the Masbrough Fla...

Internal Ref: 024813a

Seller Details

Malcolm Eglin Antiques

Hexham Northumberland United Kingdom

Tel: 07966 398123

International Tel: +44 7966 398123

