Description

A fine quality mid Victorian walnut breakfast table dating to around 1860, featuring a beautifully figured burr walnut oval top with elegant marquetry and boxwood line inlay. The richly patterned top is supported on a substantial and decorative carved walnut pedestal base with four swept legs terminating in the original porcelain castors. The table displays excellent colour and patina throughout, with the warm tones of the walnut beautifully complementing the intricate inlaid decoration. A highly versatile piece, equally suited as a breakfast, centre, occasional or dining table. Features: * Genuine Mid Victorian period, circa 1860 * Attractive burr walnut oval top * Decorative marquetry and line inlay * Elegant pedestal base with carved details * Raised on original porcelain castors * Excellent colour and grain throughout * Solid, sturdy and ready for use A superb example of Victorian craftsmanship that would make a striking addition to both traditional and contemporary interiors. Condition: Very good antique condition with age-related wear and minor marks commensurate with age and use. Presents beautifully. We can arrange delivery through out the UK and ship worldwi...
