A handsome and substantial antique swivel desk chair of exceptional quality, raised on a finely crafted mahogany base with elegantly shaped and fluted legs terminating in brass castors. The chair is upholstered in richly patinated tan leather, featuring deep buttoning throughout and decorative brass studwork that accentuates its classic design. The high-quality aged leather displays a warm colour and desirable wear consistent with age, adding considerable character and charm. Further enhancing its appeal are the generously proportioned rolled arms and beautifully shaped, rolled back, providing both comfort and an impressive presence. The swivel mechanism operates as intended, and the chair is presented in good overall condition. An excellent example of traditional craftsmanship, ideal for a study, library, office, or gentleman's interior.
