Description

This profusely inlaid Syrian Damascus games table dates from Circa 1900, and has multiple geometric and asymmetric inlays of various specimen woods. The hinged lid opens to reveal a similarly inlaid interior and a removable reversible top with emerald green baize on one side and a chessboard on the other. This can be removed to reveal the stunning inset backgammon table below. The whole top swivels to reveal a space which can be used to store cards and game pieces. The table is raised on four shaped legs united by a wide inlaid stretcher, which has a platform centre. It is a wonderful example of Syrian furniture and is a very pretty decorative piece. The table is exquisitely crafted in hardwood and features wonderful inlaid decoration comprising ebony, bone, walnut and various fruitwoods. Condition: Excellent condition, having been beautifully cleaned and waxed in our workshops -please see photos for confirmation.
