Description

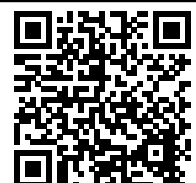

A very rare 'tea caddy' pembroke table circa 1820 with one of the two drawers containing a tea caddy which is original to the piece. The table is a beautiful mahogany with crossbanding and stringing to the top. The drawers and apron are decorated with stringing and ebony inlay. The curved legs, which are joined by a shaped tier are also decorated with stringing and sit on brass castors. A very attractive, high quality table which with the inclusion of the tea caddy also makes it very rare - I have been unable to find another like it. Height - 27.5" / 71cm Length - 36" / 91cm Width - 22" / 56cm (closed) Width - 45.3" / 115cm (open)
